

the america issue

NYLON

evan rachel wood

an american beauty

on the road

taking the pulse of the most exciting
cities in the nation

INCLUDING

- nashville
- san francisco
- miami
- portland
- chicago
- austin
- boston

the united states of style

235

homegrown
looks

face time

getting gorgeous from nyc to hawaii

+

olivia munn
surfer blood
neon indian and roller derbies!

NOVEMBER 2010

$4.99

nylonmag.com

don't mind us,
we're just being adorable at a shonen knife concert at red 7 on east 7th street.

aunna
carleton

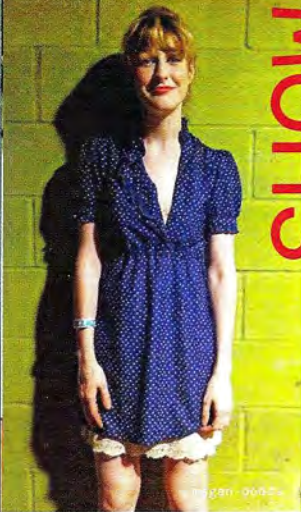

STYLE
SHOWS

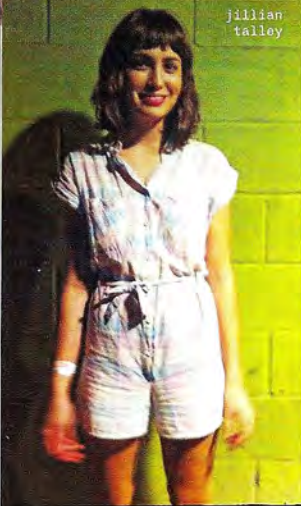

bethy b.

megan woods

jillian talley

cassandra
hamilton

address book:

PARTY

MOHAWK
912 RED RIVER ST.
Mohawk is our favorite place for live music—we go every night we're in Austin.
If you're lucky, Jenifer Rea and Erin Mikulenk of Team Fabrication will be DJing between bands.
mohawkaustin.com

RED 7
611 E. 7TH ST.
Another venue where Austin's best musicians tend to play. Stay inside for the arcade games and pool or venture into the backyard for some of the most entertaining performances in the city.
red7austin.com

ABOVE: jennifer rea and erin mikulenk (team fabrication) at mohawk feathers

buy definition

SHOP

VIVA DAY SPA
215 S. LAMAR BLVD.
Massages, facials, manicures, pedicures: Go here to recharge if you develop concert fatigue.
vivadayspa.com

FEATHERS
1700 S. CONGRESS
AVE.

There's great vintage shopping in Austin, but we think Feathers' expert editing and fair prices reign supreme.
Also be sure to check out the record store Friends of Sound in the alley behind the shop. feathersboutique.com
vintage.blogspot.com friendsofsound.com

BUY DEFINITION
3100 S. CONGRESS AVE.
This boutique has an impressively well-curated collection of taste-making designers: Alexander Wang, Lorick, Crumley necklaces... you get it.
buydefinition.com

AUSTINIST.COM
RECOMMENDS:

"It's easy to find great live shows, but the jukeboxes at Pete's, The Cloak Room, and NGNS are incredible.
NGNS has the original
Bruce Springsteen
version of 'Blinded by the Light.'"

—PAIGE MAGUIRE,
MUSIC EDITOR

STAY

SAN JOSÉ
1316 S. CONGRESS
AVE.
It's hard not to gasp when you enter the Hotel San José.
The lush courtyard breaks up the bungalowstyle rooms, making it an ideal spot to take a break from all the action on South Congress.
sanjosehotel.com

SAINT CECILIA
112 ACADEMY DR.
San José's demure little sister is located on a more tranquil side street. With its suburban lawn and cozy rooms, it kind of feels like you're staying in your friend's charming house (if your friend's house also had a moody bar downstairs).
hotelstcecilia.com

hotel san cecilia photo taken by allie
v. st

eat cute

there are countless worthy places to get your food and drink on in austin. these are some of our favorites.

...ON THE INTERNET?!

Hilah Johnson hosts an everyman (not to mention hilarious) online cooking show from her very own kitchen. She has us over for a codfish taco-
making lesson.
hilahcooking.com

...ON A TABLE

Iced coffee and breakfast tacos at Counter Café.
Barbeque by the pound at Ironworks. Green apple and crab guacamole with the carne asada at La Condesa.

...ON A TRUCK

Banana coated in chocolate and dipped in graham cracker crumbs at the Arrested Development-
inspired Bananarchy. Fat Samurai Roll at Sushi A Go Go. Indian food at G'Raj Mahal—honestly, we just love the name.

the barbecue sampler at ironworks

AUSTINIST.COM RECOMMENDS: El Reggino makes the most delicious chicken you will ever eat in your life. You give them $13 and they hand you a bag of roasted chicken and green sauce.

—TOM THORNTON, FOOD AND DRINK EDITOR

RIO RITA

On a rainy afternoon at Rio Rita (the bar we'd frequent most if we lived here), a bartender named Austin (seriously!) invents a drink just for us. Here are the ingredients:

- .75 oz. ginger-infused cachaça
  - .75 oz. honey dew and thyme tequila
  - .5 oz. Paula's Texas Orange
  - .75 oz. fresh squeezed lime juice with .25 oz. agave nectar
- Serve with Topo Chico mineral water. riorita.net

